The 2009 Fairfield County Agriculture Update is next Thursday, September 3rd from 7:30 – 9:30 AM at the new sheep barn and several vendors will be there. Ron Ruff suggested we have our group have our meeting there next week. John Mott made a motion and Jeff Metzger seconded the motion. We had an amendment to the motion as there is a $10 per person charge. A discussion was held as to whether the cost should be paid out of the PRGL account. A motion was made by Dale Jagger and seconded by Ted Tom that the fee be paid by PRGL. The motion passed. Ryan Burgoon will send out reminder e-mails.

There was a discussion about supporting various causes but not using group money. Ryan has not received any ideas. We will be having a board meeting this week so ideas would be appreciated.

Our speakers today are Suzanne McCollum of Lanfair and Dale Jagger of Integrity Painting.

Suzanne passed out flyers about Lanfair and the services offered. Suzanne is the admissions directors. The company started in 1973 and has the 1st unit dedicated to Alzheimers and has a nursing unit and assisted living unit also. Lanfair owns a pharmacy and food service. Thank you, Suzanne.

Dale is from Centerburg, OH, went to OSU, and started in food service. He left food service in 1991 and joined with his father-in-law in the painting business. Dale started his own painting company in 1997. He named is Integrity because he says what he is going to do and does what he says. Integrity is an employee based company. Dale started another company this past spring called Sub-Com Painting the uses sub-contractors. Thank you, Dale.

The meeting was adjourned.
