Bill was a bit of a daredevil in his younger days.

Riding dirt bikes and drag racing a 67 Chevelle, as well as hang gliding.

In the 70's he worked for the Army Security Agency including deployment to North Korea.

He worked with a High Tech company dealing with DNA Sequencing and cellular replication

He volunteered with the Boy Scouts for 20 years.

His technical career with the Army and the High tech company led to his interest in computers.

Bill has worked on computers his whole life. From the old to the newest and latest technology, Bill can Fix, repair, or give you guidance as to your best option.

Bill also designs affordable websites for businesses
